

Why incarnate to experience contrast?

as channeled from the Beings of Light through Liesel

“Why would someone climb a mountain, or run a marathon? Why would they choose to go through this potential intense discomfort and pain? Why not simply remain resting in the most comfortable position? Those who climb a mountain or run a marathon wish to know themselves and what they are capable of more completely. In a spiritual sense, those souls who choose human incarnation for the purpose of experiencing contrast are the souls that gravitate to what could be thought of as a spiritual form of mountain climbing or a spiritual form of a marathon. They realize that the reward in reaching the view from the top of the mountain is a more robust understanding of what it means to be made of the vibration of unconditional love.”

“Always know Our love is truly with you, because Our love truly is you.”
